Increased Reimbursement for ASME Long Island Section Members

In reflecting on this year's momentous 50th Anniversary of the Apollo 11 moon landing, the ASME LI Section members are proud that the Apollo Lunar Module was designed and built by Grumman here on Long Island and that the LM has been previously designated as an ASME National Historic Mechanical Engineering Landmark.

To commemorate this anniversary, the Cradle of Aviation Museum is holding several activities, among them the June 6th Apollo at 50 Anniversary Dinner. To make participation more affordable, the ASME Long Island Section is offering a $100 reimbursement for up to twenty of its Members who purchase a ticket and attend. This is a $50 increase over the previous offer. Eligible members who applied previously will receive the higher amount.

Eligibility Requirements (Which you must meet and which you authorize the ASME LI Section to verify)

- Applicant must be a verifiable member of the ASME Long Island Section. If you need to check your ASME LI Section membership status, call 1-800-THE-ASME (1-800-843-2763).

- Must purchase their personal ticket from the Museum (may be before or after submitting the Request)
